SUBJECT: Response to Senate Report AS-3188-256-AP: New Minor in Artificial Intelligence

The Academic Senate recommends the approval of his new minor. The rapid growth of artificial intelligence and its expanding impact across industries has increased demand for graduates with AI-related competencies. This minor aims to better prepare students from a wide range of disciplines to adapt to evolving workforce needs and technological advancements.

I thank the Office of Academic Programs and the Academic Senate for their recommendation. I support Provost Gomez, the Academic Senate, and the Office of Academic Programs in approving this new minor and request that this report be officially recorded.
